Exciting News from Our Pack

Great News!
We're giving you more ways to connect with HanaByte and our culture of learning.

Webinar Series Launch

Starting in January of 2024

Since our last Newsletter, we've launched our new webinar series! We discussed the benefits of Partnering with a DevOps First Security Company! Join us today, February 29th, for our second live event and find out about Automating Compliant OS in the cloud!

Select Partner Tier

We're in a new Tier!

We continue our learning and growth in our standing to make sure we're offering the best services! As we work to stay sharp in our knowledge, we continue to expand our offerings as well. Talk to us about our partnerships today!

We're in the Press!

Check out how we're making headlines today

Press Release

We've released our first press release regarding our new partnership! "[HanaByte] Cybersecurity consultancy provides its deep cloud expertise with Google Cloud to help businesses achieve their security and automation goals!" Now live with the Associated Press, Yahoo Finance, Market Watch, and so much more. Keep an eye out as we continue to release updates.

Business Radio X

Our CTO, Eric Evans, was the guest speaker for Business Radio X. You can check out the full conversation linked on both the Business Radio X YouTube and, of course, on our own YouTube channel in our playlist. Check it out and learn about our history, our operation strategy and how choosing a Boutique Cybersecurity Consultancy offers you the best opportunity for security!

How We're Giving Back

Atlanta Children's Shelter

For Q1, our collaboration Volunteer Program worked with ACS. We had the opportunity to sponsor a local classroom to provide items from their wishlist of necessities and fun activities for their students. ACS has been helping families in Atlanta for more than 30 years, where they have successfully assisted in stabilizing nearly 5,000 homeless families and over 8,000 homeless children.

The team gathered for a day of shopping and collection before enjoying a team meal. Next month, our CEO and a few of our team members will have the opportunity to deliver our purchases to our sponsored classroom.
